- No candidate may take more than one module from any single List (C1–C17). (They may take more than one module from List C18, which consists of modules that are online and asynchronous.)
 - Candidates should take elective modules to the values stated below (according to their programme), so that the total value of modules taken is exactly 180 credits.
 - Candidates who choose to take a CFLS module will take 200 credits in total (see paragraph 23).
 - The stated prerequisites and/or corequisites for each module are met.
22. In place of one or more A&H elective modules, students may take open modules to the equivalent value offered by other faculties, subject both to timetabling-compatibility and to the approval of the programme director.
23. In addition, candidates for all of the above programmes may (but are not required to) take up to 20 credits offered by the University’s Centre for Foreign Language Study (CFLS), noting that any candidate who takes this option will finish with 200 credits overall (i.e. 180 credits plus an additional 20 credits via CFLS).
